Implicit Bias Training Opportunities

For available dates and times, visit https://beaumont.cloud-cme.com/everydaybias2022

Space is limited. Advance Registration Required.

Training is restricted to OUWB and Beaumont employees and providers only.

Description:

Grounded in self-reflection, this course enables participants to examine how experiences and identities shape their biases. Participants develop awareness of their first impressions that can lead to biased decision-making in the workplace. These virtual sessions will be presented by Tracey Taylor, Ph.D. and Ann Voorheis-Sargent, Ph.D., LPC.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of this activity, learners should be better able to:

- 1. Explain how bias functions in the brain and its impact on decision making.
- 2. Examine how experiences and identities shape our biases.
- 3. Develop the ability to closely inspect our first impressions for bias.

NOTE: These trainings meet the LARA requirements for two hours of implicit bias training. CME credit is also available.

This activity is eligible for 1.0 OUWB Meaningful Participation credit.

Contact ceme@oakland.edu for questions.

To register: https://beaumont.cloud-cme.com/everydaybias2022 or scan the QR code

