1st Annual Beaumont Interprofessional Pain Conference: THE VALUE OF TEAM-BASED PAIN CARE

Overview

The Beaumont Health Interprofessional Pain Conference will cover the importance of team-based care and coordination for the safe and effective treatment of pain. Attendees from a wide range of disciplines will be integrated into learning teams to promote interprofessional education by sharing ideas and different perspectives for effective assessment and treatment. The conference will integrate lectures, table-top exercises and case-based learning to create a rich educational experience.

The conference goal is for attendees to learn about the issues and complexities of functioning in an interprofessional team for the management of pain and to carry these insights into their work setting, ultimately improving patient outcomes through a collaborative team approach.

Target audience

Health care professionals involved in assessment and treatment of pain are encouraged to attend.
